

The Somerset County Chamber of Commerce presents

News at Noon

with Jeremy Goodman, CEO of the Pittsburgh Zoo & PPG Aquarium and The ICC

Wednesday, April 13th, 2022

At the Somerset Country Club

Registration & Lunch: 11:30 a.m. - Presentation: 12 p.m.

Somerset County welcomes Dr Jeremy Goodman, the new CEO of the Pittsburgh Zoo & PPG Aquarium and of course the International Conservation Center in Fairhope, where Somerset County's largest resident (Jackson) lives. In addition, the zoo has hosted a yearly Somerset County Day at the zoo for many years, which includes free admission, presentations, and a fun day at the zoo for Somerset County residents.

The Zoological Board of Pittsburgh anticipates Dr. Jeremy Goodman will bring a new perspective and experience to advancing the AZA accreditation, renewing the lease with the city of Pittsburgh, creating, and updating exhibitions, and engaging the community in new ways in order to further enhance and grow the zoo.

Dr. Goodman will also spearhead the International Conservation Center (ICC), the 1,000 acres in Somerset, PA, that's North America's premier conservation, research, education, breeding, and training facility, specializing in the care, and breeding of African elephants. The ICC is the only center of its kind with such a strong focus on this beautiful and threatened animal and enables the Pittsburgh Zoo to play a major leadership role in addressing the needs for breeding the African elephant population in North America.

Sponsorships are always encouraged so that we can continue to provide these important update sessions.
