Somerset County's Agriculture Career Day

As a part of the Somerset County Chamber's Success in Somerset County Workforce Education Initiative, we are happy to announce that "Somerset County eighth grade students will again participate in our Annual Agriculture Career Day in May that focuses on a multitude of careers in the agricultural industry. Eighth grade students from all eleven school districts, (around 650 kids), are invited to Pennwood Farm in Berlin on Friday, May 10, 2024. The day will consist of students visiting career clusters to hear from presenters on the following topics.

Career Clusters - 2024

- Ag Lending / Accounting / Farm, Management- Lending to farms and ag businesses, record keeping, cash flows, business analysis, various production level management positions, etc.
- Ag Equipment Operation, Sales, Service, and Technology- Positions tied to the new and emerging technology in agricultural equipment.
- Ag Communications, Promotion, Education and Digital Marketing- Positions in ag commodities, Ag organizations, marketing, and sales in agriculture.
- Forestry and Maple Production- marketing of maple products and equipment as well as production, promotion and sales of wood products and the timber industry.
- Apiary and Horticulture- bee and honey management, production, and processing as well as the production, promotion, marketing of fruits and vegetables.
- Agronomy, Soil Science, Lawn, Garden, Greenhouse, Tree Service- Crop production, soil analysis, turf management and production, greenhouse production, arborists, etc.
- Vet/ Vet tech/Animal Care /Animal Nutrition- all veterinary and animal care, health, and nutrition services.

- Ag Support, Lobbying, Help Organizations- positions in promotion, processing, education, cooperatives, advocacy, providing services, etc.
- Conservation and Environmental Positions- conservation of our soil, water, and natural resources.
- Ag Engineering, Construction and Energy Production- Facility design, construction, and utilization as well as alternative energy production methods in Agriculture
- Farm Tour at Pennwood- a 20 minute tour of the Pennwood Dairy Farm.

The purpose of this event is to expose students to career opportunities in agriculture. Harold Shaulis brought the idea to the Somerset County Chamber of Commerce to help with holding a day that kids can have an experience of different kinds of agriculture and learn about the industry before they decide on career paths. "Our goal was to show the students that agriculture is more than just working on a farm with animals, there are lots of possibilities," stated Shaulis.

The chamber has partnered with Pennwood Farms as the hosting site, the PA Farm Bureau, and many sponsors to help offset the cost of this event. "With the help of the M.J. Miller Heritage Fund, Somerset Trust Company, Somerset County Farm Bureau, the Community Foundation for the Alleghenies, Hillcrest Saylor Dairy Farms, LLC and Hooper, as well as many other sponsors we have really been able to offer.

Somerset County Chamber of Commerce Hosts Regional Leadership Conference

WITH SUPPORT FROM:

Leadership Somerset County "Graduation means recruiting is underway"

By Ron Aldom,

Executive Director, Somerset County Chamber of Commerce

Ron Aldom

The 20th class of Leadership Somerset County will be graduating in June and once again, it was an awesome class of individuals who will and are making a difference in Somerset County and the surrounding region.

The progress of this county depends on developing new leaders to fill those non-profit board seats or serve on various county and regional initiatives that help improve the quality of life in our region.

Baby Boomer retirements are having a profound affect on our workforce and are likewise affecting the volunteer leadership so desperately needed for our future growth. We are losing key county and regional leaders to their well- deserved retirement and we need to fill those shoes as quickly as possible. Leadership Somerset County was created to fulfill that mission and has been successfully doing it for over 20 years.

I urge all of you, as business, organization and government leaders, to make an investment in the future of this county by nominating someone to attend this program. Not only will they learn more about how the county operates in various sectors; they will also pick up key leadership skills, which translates into an even stronger employee for you.

Let's continue to build the future of Somerset County by investing in building new leaders.

PA State Grant FAFSA Submission

Deadline Extended to June

The Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA) has announced that the submission deadline for the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA®), with relation to the PA State Grant Program, has been extended to June 1, 2024.

“In a year of unprecedented change with regards to the FAFSA, we believe adjusting our deadline for state financial aid is the right thing to do,” said Senator Wayne Fontana, Chairman of the PHEAA Board of Directors. “Giving students and families a few more weeks to fill out their FAFSA will ensure our PA State Grant dollars get into the hands of the students who need it most.”

The launch of the FAFSA application for the upcoming academic year was delayed almost 3 months as the FAFSA underwent changes as a result of the FAFSA Simplification Act, which was intended to streamline the financial aid application process. The U.S. Department of Education (ED) rolled out the new FAFSA on December 31, 2023, for the 2024-25 academic year, but has since encountered a number of issues, delays, and errors in processing student applications. The PA State Grant Program uses the FAFSA form as its primary application point to determine student eligibility for a PA State Grant award. Historically, May 1 was used as the “deadline” for students to complete their FAFSA for PA State Grant purposes.

“The current issues with the 2024-25 FAFSA have had a significant impact on the PA State Grant Program, just as they’ve impacted FAFSA completion rates, schools’ financial aid package distribution, and grant programs in other states,” said PHEAA Board Member Representative Jennifer O’Mara. “We want to make sure our students and families are held harmless.”

Even with the extension to June 1, PHEAA urges students who have not yet submitted their FAFSA for the upcoming 2024-25 academic year to submit it as soon as possible. To meet the PA State Grant deadline as a first-time or renewal applicant, PHEAA will look at the student’s FAFSA submission date. Once the FAFSA is submitted, students needing to complete the PA State Grant Form, or any supplemental documentation, have until the academic year student reconsideration deadline (April 1, 2025 for the 2024-25 award year)

After a student completes the FAFSA and the data is transmitted to PHEAA, the next step for first-time applicants is filling out the PA State Grant Form using PHEAA’s new GrantUs platform. Notices are expected to go out in the next few weeks to students, with instructions on setting up their GrantUs accounts and completing their PA State Grant documentation. Renewal applicants only need to submit a FAFSA and set up a GrantUs account. PHEAA staff will continue to work diligently to address any obstacles to obtaining financial aid and communicate any changes necessary to ensure access to financial aid.

The FAFSA submission deadline for first-time applicants who plan to enroll in a community college; business, trade, or technical school; a hospital school of nursing; a designated Pennsylvania Open Admission institution; or a non-transferable 2-year degree program at a community, 2-year, or 4-year college remains August 1, 2024.

The Significance of Boosting Mental Health Coverage in Employee Benefits

In recent years, there has been a growing recognition of the importance of employee health and well-being in the workplace. While physical health has traditionally been the focus of employee health insurance, mental health has emerged as an equally vital aspect of overall well-being. In this article, we will discuss the relevance of mental health coverage in employee health insurance, highlighting its significance for employees and employers alike.

Mental health problems, such as depression, anxiety, and stress related disorders, have become increasingly common in the workplace.

According to a study in the World Health Organization (WHO), depression and anxiety alone cost the global economy an estimated $1 trillion per year in lost productivity. This statistic serves to bolster the need for employers to assure adequate mental health coverage is in their employee health insurance plans.

Providing mental health coverage as part of employee health insurance can significantly enhance the overall well-being of employees. Mental health issues can affect an individual's ability to function optimally in the workplace, leading to decreased productivity, increased absenteeism, and higher turnover rates. By offering comprehensive mental health coverage, employers can help address these challenges and promote a healthier and more engaged workforce.

One of the barriers to seeking mental health treatment is the persistent stigma associated with mental illness. Including mental health coverage in employee health insurance plans can help reduce this stigma by normalizing the discussion around mental health and encouraging employees to seek the care they need. Additionally, by providing coverage, employers can ensure that employees have access to a range of mental health services, including therapy, counseling, and psychiatric consultations.

Investing in mental health coverage can yield significant returns for employers. Employees who have access to mental health support through their health insurance tend to be more productive, have higher job satisfaction, and are less likely to take sick leave. By addressing mental health concerns proactively, employers can create a positive work environment that fosters employee well-being and enhances overall productivity and performance.

Although the inclusion of mental health coverage in employee health insurance plans may require an initial investment, it can prove cost-effective in the long run. By addressing mental health issues early on, employers can prevent more severe problems from developing and minimize the associated costs, such as absenteeism, reduced productivity, and increased healthcare utilization. Furthermore, healthier and happier employees are more likely to remain with the organization, reducing turnover and the expenses associated with recruitment and training.
