Don't miss out on this incredible opportunity- register now and secure your spot in the tournament. Let's tee off for success.

Flight 93 National Memorial 22nd Commemoration Programming

By Donna Gibson,
Flight 93 National Memorial

Each year, the Nation pauses to remember the 2,977 lives lost on September 11, 2001. A weekend of activities is planned to commemorate the 22nd observance of the terrorist attacks on America at Flight 93 National Memorial.

On Saturday September 9, the Heroes' Walk will begin at 10:00 AM. Participants have the opportunity to walk the 2.7 miles of trails encompassing the Memorial. Family members of Flight 93 passengers and crew members will be stationed throughout the walk to speak about their loved ones, and what the memorial means to them personally. The walk concludes with a dedication ceremony at the Western Overlook. Last year's walk proceeds were used to upgrade and enhance the area where family members had their first view of the crash site.

To register go to www.flight93friends.org/heroes-walk.

The National Park Service plans to use this space for programming. The first program "13 Days in September" will be offered Saturday at 2:00 PM. This program is a ranger-led walking program beginning at the Visitor Center Complex and concludes at the Western Overlook.

On Sunday September 10, the National Park Service is offering four programs from 10 am to 3:30 pm. A full list of their programs is available at <https://www.nps.gov/flni/planyourvisit/calendar.htm>.

Monday, September 11 marks the 22nd commemoration service held at Flight 93 National Memorial. The Moment of Remembrance begins at 9:50 am, which includes reading the names of the 40 passenger and crew members and the ringing of the Bells of Remembrance. This brief ceremony is open to the public.

New this year, Friends of Flight 93 National Memorial and the National Park Service are partnering to offer a Virtual National Day of Learning entitled "Teach to Remember 9/11". Lessons will include a live stream of the Moment of Remembrance, ranger guided interpretive tours of the memorial features, family members speaking about how they remember 9/11, investigation of Flight 93 and much more. A video gallery and resources will be available to assist teachers in enhancing their student learning experience. Teachers can use the resources on 9/11 or throughout the year as time permits.

"Kick Off" the Season

By Ron Adom,
Executive Director, Somerset County Chamber of Commerce

It's back to school time and while it does unofficially end the summer season, it also celebrates one of the best times to be in Somerset County. Friday night lights showcase high school football and fall festivals bring visitors to our county from far and wide to get a sampling of all this county has to offer. Then, the mountains take on a spectacular array of colors as our fall foliage kicks into full tint. There is just something special about fall in Somerset County. It is also the perfect time to get your bike and head to the Great Allegheny Passage and experience the best time in the county.

Fall also kicks off our workforce education programs in all eleven school districts and the SCTC. The array of partnering organizations, including the chamber, offer a multitude of programs to highlight high demand careers for our students, along with the education and training requirements to be successful in their chosen careers. Plus, we place special emphasis on highlighting the fact that most of these careers are in Somerset County and the local region.

I would be remiss if I didn't offer a plug for the Somerset County Chamber, as we have our hands in most everything that happens in our county. Whether it's promoting to attract visitors or assisting on workforce education programs in the schools, we are involved and it's your investment (dues) in us that allow us to do it. Thank you for allowing us the opportunity to take on the mission.

The memorial partnership is also working with the National Writing Project to host "Write to Remember – A Call to Action". Students can participate in the fall of 2023 by publishing their work about how the lessons learned from 9/11 can help our country tackle today's challenges. Teachers can learn more about the National Day of Learning and the National Writing Project at www.flight93friends.org/education/teach2remember.

The new direction with education programs for September 11, helps us to reach a new generation. We hope the stories from September 11, 2001, can provide inspiration for some of the challenges students face today.

Exciting Opportunities Await at the Somerset College & Technical Fair!

Calling all high school juniors and parents! The Somerset County Chamber of Commerce is thrilled to announce the upcoming Somerset County College & Technical Fair. This highly anticipated event is designed to connect students with a wide range of educational opportunities and help them make informed decisions about their future.

On November 2nd, from 9 am to noon, the Somerset County Technology Center will be buzzing with activity as representatives from various colleges, universities, technical schools and the military gather to showcase their programs. This is a fantastic opportunity for students to explore different fields of study, learn about admission requirements, and discover the unique offerings of each institution.

In addition, the fair will feature panel discussions on various careers presented by young professionals working in those specific areas. These presentations are always representing high demand occupations and cover the education and training requirements to achieve success in those careers.

The Somerset County Chamber of Commerce is committed to supporting the educational aspirations of our community's youth. We believe that by providing access to a diverse range of educational options, we can help students unlock their full potential and pave the way for a successful future.

Mark your calendars and join us at the Somerset County College & Technical Fair. Whether you're a high school student exploring your options or a parent seeking guidance for your child, this event is not to be missed. Together, let's embark on an exciting journey of discovery and possibilities!"

The fair is open to everyone and there is no admission, so it's a perfect opportunity to explore new careers, while finding the right training and education facility to accomplish your goals.

Antique, Artisans, & Ales Event Delights Somerset County!

Uptown Somerset was buzzing with excitement as the Somerset County Chamber of Commerce hosted its highly anticipated Antique show but with a twist this year. The streets came alive with the perfect blend of nostalgia, craft beer, and local talent. Over 4,000 people travelled here, many from more than an hour away, to find those hidden treasures among the array of vendors, while also adding to the profits of local businesses.

One of the highlights of the event was the presence of Trailhead brewing company, offering their finest ales to the attendees. Beer enthusiasts savored the unique flavors and craftsmanship of local brews, adding an extra layer of enjoyment to the festivities.

To enhance the vibrant atmosphere, talented local musicians entertained in Trinity Park. Their soulful melodies and energetic performances captivated the crowds, creating an unforgettable ambiance throughout the event.

The success of the Antique, Ales, & Artisans event was evident in the overwhelming turnout of hundreds of people. Somerset residents and visitors from neighbouring states and counties flocked to the streets, eager to explore craftsmanship of local artisans.

In addition to the fantastic event, The Somerset County Chamber of Commerce had some more exciting announcements to share with the community.

Firstly, amidst the festivities, the lucky winner of the Seven Springs wine festival Giveaway tickets was announced by Ron Aldom the Executive Director of Somerset County Chamber of Commerce. Congratulations to the fortunate recipient who will get to indulge in a delightful wine testing experience!

Furthermore, The Somerset County Leadership class of 2022-2023 organized an engaging upcycling contest during the event. Candidates showcased their creativity and skills by flipping antique items into unique and repurposed treasures. It was a wonderful display of innovation and sustainability.

The Somerset County Chamber of Commerce extends its gratitude to the community for their enthusiastic participation and support. This event truly showcased the rich cultural heritage and vibrant spirit of Somerset.

Stay tuned for more exciting events and initiatives from the Somerset County Chamber of Commerce as we continue to promote local businesses and create memorable experiences for the community.

Flight 93 Memorial Flags

Wednesday, August 16th, an incredible group of volunteers came together near the turnpike entrance to pay tribute to the lives lost on that tragic day of 9/11. They meticulously placed 2937 flags (the remaining 40 flags will be placed by the crew of the USS Somerset when they arrive in September), each representing a precious life lost on that fateful day. This powerful display of remembrance not only honors the victims but also serves as a heartfelt welcome to the 9/11 motorcycle riders who continue to ride in their memory. The unity and resilience exhibited by these volunteers is truly awe-inspiring!

Somerset County's 15th Annual Pittsburgh Zoo

Somerset County has a wonderful relationship with the Pittsburgh Zoo & PPG Aquarium and The International Conservation Center (ICC) and this becomes so apparent with the Annual Zoo Safari, which allows thousands of local residents to experience the many wonders of the Pittsburgh Zoo. "Our heartfelt thanks to the staff and management of the zoo for this wonderful day." Somerset County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Ron Aldom Said.

Somerset Ranks as One of Top Small Towns for Adventure

By Eric Knopsynder,
Go Laurel Highlands Pennsylvania

A year-round destination for outdoor enthusiasts, Somerset has been named one of the top 25 small towns for adventure in the Mid-Atlantic and Southeast, and voters can push the “Roof Garden of Pennsylvania,” to the top of the mountain.

Located in the beautiful Laurel Highlands, Somerset is one of 25 communities with a population between 3,001 and 16,000 to make Blue Ridge Outdoors Magazine’s 13th annual list of Top Adventure Towns. Aside from “large town” entries Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Somerset is the only Pennsylvania community in the running for the top spot, which will be determined by online voting.

The first round of voting began Tuesday at <https://www.blueridgeoutdoors.com/toptowns> and run through Aug. 22. The second round was Aug. 23-29 with the final round Aug. 30-Sept. 6. The four winning towns will be featured in the November issue of Blue Ridge Outdoors Magazine.

Somerset, which also made the list in 2022, ranks among mountain biking destinations, whitewater oases, climbing paradises, hiking havens, booming craft beer epicenters and live music hot spots, according to the magazine, which highlights communities with vibrant outdoor recreation scenes and access to world-class adventure. Somerset is located about 15 miles from the top downhill snow skiing destination in Pennsylvania, Seven Springs Mountain Resort, as well as Hidden Valley Resort and Laurel Mountain Ski Resort.

Excellent fishing, hunting, camping, cross country skiing and watersports activities are nearby, as Laurel Hill State Park, Kooser State Park, Laurel Summit State Park and Forbes State Forest are within a 15-mile radius, as are Quemahoning Family Recreation Area and Indian Lake. State Game Lands Nos. 50, 82 and 231 are all within a short drive. “Somerset is a natural location as an adventure town,” said Ron Aldom, executive director of the Somerset County Chamber of Commerce. “It is nestled between some of the best outdoor recreation destinations in Pennsylvania and the eastern United States.”

The Great Allegheny Passage, which runs from Pittsburgh to Cumberland, Maryland, and has been named one of the top recreational trails in the U.S., receives more than a million visits annually, with tourists from all 50 states and more than 35 countries taking advantage of the GAP. The Salisbury Viaduct, with its scenic vistas, consistently ranks as one of the most popular attractions on the 150-mile trail.

A little farther south lies Mount Davis, the highest point in Pennsylvania, and the Mount Davis Natural Area, which is home to more hiking opportunities.

“We’re excited that Somerset has been recognized as a top adventure town,” said Regina Coughenour, executive director of Somerset, Inc. “In SoCo, you won’t find a local who doesn’t know how to throw a line in the water or identify a maple leaf. At Somerset, Inc., we look forward to welcoming adventurous souls and kindred spirits who seek mountain air, the feeling of nature’s expanse, and the camaraderie of outdoor enthusiasts.”
